Lesson #1: BABY MOSES (Exodus 1-1:10)

The Bible says that when Jacob's family moved to Egypt, there were 70 people. They lived and raised their sheep in the area called Goshen. After 400 years the number of Israelites grew to be thousands of people. A new King Pharaoh ruled who did not know Joseph.

Since there were so many Israelites, the new Pharaoh was afraid that they were getting too big and too strong. He didn't want them to fight against his Egyptians. So, he forced the Israelites to be slaves. The Egyptian task masters made them work hard building big cities.

Life was very hard for the Israelite slaves. But their families grew bigger and bigger. So, Pharaoh said, "All Israelite baby boys must die." He ordered his soldiers to throw the baby boys into the Nile River. But Jochebed and Amram knew that God had a special plan for their baby boy. They hid him from the Egyptian soldiers.

When the baby was 3 months old, Jochebed couldn't hide him any longer. So, she took a basket and covered it with sticky tar to keep the basket dry. She put the baby in the basket.

Mommy Jochebed set the baby basket among the reeds on the bank of the Nile River. 8-year-old sister Miriam stood watch to see what would happen to the baby.

Pharaoh's daughter came to the Nile River to take a bath. She saw the basket and told her maid to get it.

She opened the basket and found the crying baby boy. The Princess felt sorry for this little Hebrew baby and wanted to keep him as her own. Miriam ran up to the Princess and said, "Do you want me to find a Hebrew woman that will nurse the baby and take care of him for you?"

Miriam ran and got Jochebed. The Princess said, "Take care of this baby for me. I will pay you."

The child grew. When he was old enough, he went to live in the palace. He became the son of the Princess. She named him Moses, and said, "Because I drew him out of the water."
