Lesson #4: GOD BRINGS PLAGUES ON EGYPT (Exodus 7:14-11:10)

The Bible says that God told Moses and Aaron to the River Nile and speak to Pharaoh. They said to Pharaoh, “God said, “Let my people go, so that they may worship me in the wilderness.” Pharaoh refused. So, Aaron struck the River Nile with his staff. Plague #1: The water changed to blood. Fish died; the Egyptians could not drink the water. Pharaoh’s magicians did the same thing by their secret arts. Pharaoh refused to obey God. He went back to the palace.

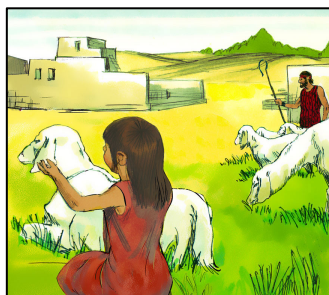

Plague #2: God said to stretch out Aaron’s staff to make frogs come over all the land. Pharaoh’s magicians were able to make frogs appear too. There were frogs everywhere! Pharaoh said, “Pray to your God to take the frogs away. Then I will let your people go.” Moses replied, “So you will know there is no one like God, the frogs will leave tomorrow.” All the frogs died, and the smell was bad. But Pharaoh broke his promise. He refused to let the Hebrews go.

Plague #3: God said to strike the dust. The dust became gnats. Pharaoh’s magicians tried but could not do this. “This is the finger of God,” they told Pharaoh. Gnats were everywhere. Pharaoh still had a hard heart and refused to let the Hebrews go and worship God.

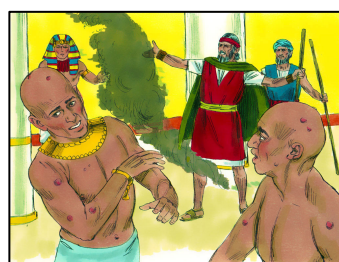

Plague #4: Next, swarms of flies came into the palace and the houses of the Egyptians. But the flies stayed away from the Hebrew slaves.

Pharaoh said, "I will let you go and offer sacrifices to your God, but you must not go far. Now pray to God to stop the flies." Moses prayed and the next day the flies left. But Pharaoh broke his promise and refused to let the Hebrew slaves go.

Moses went to Pharaoh again. 'If you don't let God's people, go, tomorrow God will bring a terrible plague on your horses, donkeys, camels, cattle sheep and goats. But livestock of the Hebrew slaves won't die.'

Plague #5: The next day the livestock of the Egyptians died. But Pharaoh still refused to let God's people go.

Plague #6: Bad sores called boils broke out on all the Egyptians. But Pharaoh still refused to let God's people go.

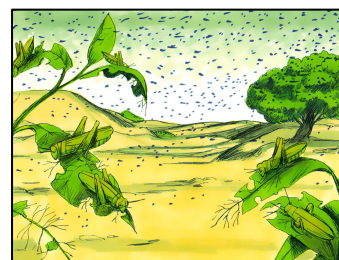

Plague #7: Lightning filled the skies, and large hailstones came pounding down. Those caught outside were killed. But the storm did not hit the Hebrew slaves living in Goshen.

I have sinned. The Lord is right,' Pharaoh told Moses. 'I will let you go.' Moses spread out his hands to God. The thunder and hail stopped.

Pharaoh, however, then changed his mind and stubbornly refused to let God's people go. He thought he could defy God, but God was not finished with him yet.

Plague #8: Moses raised his staff. An east wind blew all night bringing in a swarm of locusts. They covered the ground making it look black and ate everything growing in the fields until nothing green remained on plant or tree. "I have sinned against God," Pharaoh told Moses. "Forgive me once more and pray to God to take this deadly plague away." When Moses prayed, the wind changed direction and blew the locusts into the Red Sea.

But Pharaoh became stubborn again and refused to let the people go. So, Moses stretched out his hands and total darkness came over the land for three days. Only in Goshen where the Hebrew slaves lived was there light.

'Get out of my sight,' ordered Pharaoh. 'Don't ever appear before me again. If you do, you will die.'

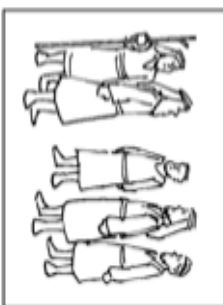

PRIMARY GRADES ACTIVITIES

Print the letters inside the bubble shapes.

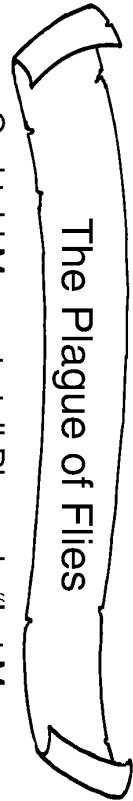

“Let my people go.”

All the Egyptian houses were filled with flies. But there were no flies where the Israelites lived.

Match the shapes.

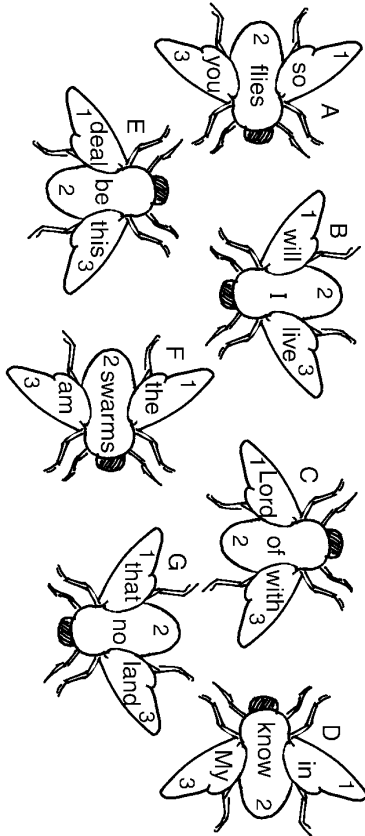

UPPER GRADES ACTIVITIES

God told Moses to tell Pharaoh, "Let My people go ... If you do not ... I will send swarms of flies on your land." What would be different with this plague?

Transfer the words from the swarm of flies to the blanks below.
